Year 9 Curriculum Overview – THEME OF LOVE

Intent: By the end of year 9 students will be able to embed their knowledge from Year 7 and 8, developing and honing their ability to read and critically respond to texts and explore how writers use structural and linguistic methods to have a desired impact on their reader. Through reading a range of literary prose, poetry and play, as well as non-fiction, students will appreciate and consider the form, genre and purpose and how these influence the writer's choices, both linguistically and structurally. By the end of the year, students have read increasingly challenging texts and responding in a more analytical manner. They will be able to adopt different styles and forms to ensure their writing is appropriate, engaging and effective. They will become familiar with genres and styles. They will develop their knowledge of Shakespeare through the study of a tragic play and develop their contextual knowledge that will be needed to secure their knowledge.
